Rules on letting this property

Properties can be let if they have an energy rating from A+ to E.

If a property has an energy rating of F or G, the landlord cannot grant a tenancy to new or existing tenants, unless an exemption has been registered.

From 1 April 2023, landlords will not be allowed to continue letting a non-domestic property on an existing lease if that property has an energy rating of F or G.

You can read guidance for landlords on the regulations and exemptions

Recommendations

Make these changes to improve the property's energy efficiency.

Recommended improvements are grouped by the estimated time it would take for the change to pay for itself. The assessor may also make additional recommendations.

Each recommendation is marked as low, medium or high. This shows the potential impact of the change on reducing the property's carbon emissions.

Additional recommendations

Recommendation

Potential impact

Consider replacing lamps or light fittings in frequently lit areas with LED. Ensure a lighting design is carried out and the specification of lamps and luminaires is retained to maximise energy savings and the improvement in EPC rating.

Medium

Some windows have high U-values - consider installing secondary glazing.

High

Consider installing an air source heat pump.

High

Consider installing PV.
